QUADRANGLE 1969

La Grange College
La Grange, Georgia

VOLUME FIFTY-TWO

I don't want you to tell me
That life is beautiful.
I want my eyes to feel it.

I don't want you to tell me.
My smile will last.
I want to see it
Shining above my world.

And with every day
Looking back,
My feeling dwelling,
And my memories whispering
"This is College Life"

G. Y.

In every bush a word is hidden.
 In every Rose a smile is lying.
 We walk through life—
 Often we forget that yesterday
 was once here.
 We even forget to smile.
 Time takes away everything ...

Once I was a student
 And my eyes sought life.
 Like all that preceded me,
 I am a follower ...
 I am a student ...
 I am a leader ...

I am a LaGrange College freshman
I am an individual
I walk around new
In a world I want to be mine.

I am young.
Life passes near my eyes.
With every day I become aware of my responsibilities.
I want to be Everything I am capable of being.

I am the Sophomore.
My tomorrows lie between four walls.
My tomorrows are in the vast plain of life,
And in the eyes of people I see everyday.
People I will remember
In the shadow of a book,
Smiling, happy
and friendly.

I am the Junior.
Let me take you to my world
Where ready but yet not complete
I walk, smile
And acquire another chapter in the book of my life.

I blow on the dust of time
 I look back and I wonder where all my yesterdays
 have gone.
 I am the senior.
 I am what I have made myself become.

I watch them running.
 I see them playing,
 smiling and exhausted ...
 I cheer, I shout,
 I clap.
 I want them to know
 I am with them
 and I am the spectator.

They look at me
and they see me struggling.
They see the fame
of their college in my arms.
They caught this ball ...
They won this point ...
They are playing
and I am the participant.

Dedication

Because he has a unique personality complemented by a superb wit . . .

Because he remains an individual in a world characterized by conformity . . .

Because he recognizes the strength, the talent, the ability in everyone and encourages those qualities . . .

Because he is a counselor to those who need his advice, a teacher to those who seek his knowledge, and a friend to those who desire his friendship . . .

Because of all that he has meant to us . . .

We dedicate the 1969 Quadrangle to

Dr. James Dodd

I am the student . . .

I realize that my education comes but

I also know that my studies must be supplemented with extracurricular activities.

Through taking advantage of these activities I become a well-rounded individual and a fuller part of college life.

Participation in clubs, committees, Greek activities and service organizations round out my life.

Each group is designed to help me develop the qualities of citizenship, leadership, and cooperation.

Organizations are an informative means of broadening my interest in a particular field.

The toil, the effort, and the reward of these extracurricular hours belong to me . . . the student . . . who has borne them in silence and in joy.

The 1969 Quadrangle worked hard this year to produce one of the best Quadrangles ever. Now that all the pictures have been taken, all the sections have been completed, the Quadrangle Dance is over, the Dedication has been made, and the books have been given out, we can look back in the coming years to remember the joys, hardships, and good times that we shared in this year.

I am the student . . .

As a person I am not satisfied just to exist——
to be.

I must also achieve and create something of value, not only for myself, but for my college.

I have found my identity.

I am the class of '69

As a junior, a sophomore, a freshman I have yet to find my true identity—but I search.

I am every person at La Grange.

Through rivalry I have learned the value of unity,
for separated I find that I am weak.

I have many different faces but each contributes to form my whole being.

I am the school——

I am the student.

Only the Griffin could symbolize WestPoint Pepperell

. . . Because only the Griffin symbolizes all the things WestPoint Pepperell is known for.

In ancient mythology, the Griffin, with the head and wings of an eagle and the body of a lion, was the guardian of treasure. He had strength. He had agility, vigilance. In the textile industry, in our plant communities and wherever we do business, WestPoint Pepperell is known for those same qualities.

Proudly displayed on all our products, the legendary Griffin tells the modern-day fact of the dedication to quality, integrity and reliability of more than 20,000 WestPoint Pepperell people.

In your home, clothing and automobile—in industry and wherever American military forces serve—the Griffin marks the finest in textiles. Textiles from WestPoint Pepperell, for today and tomorrow.

Editor's Epitaph

Together, we have witnessed the birth and maturity of another year. It has been filled with grief, happiness, victory, and defeat. All phases have been recorded in this the 1969 QUADRANGLE. The student, the participant, the leader, the follower; all are players in the experience of our year. For us, it has ended; for you it is just beginning.

We present this QUADRANGLE, that it may hold for you many warm and wonderful remembrances. To us, it symbolizes a year past which can never be regained, but in memory often relived.

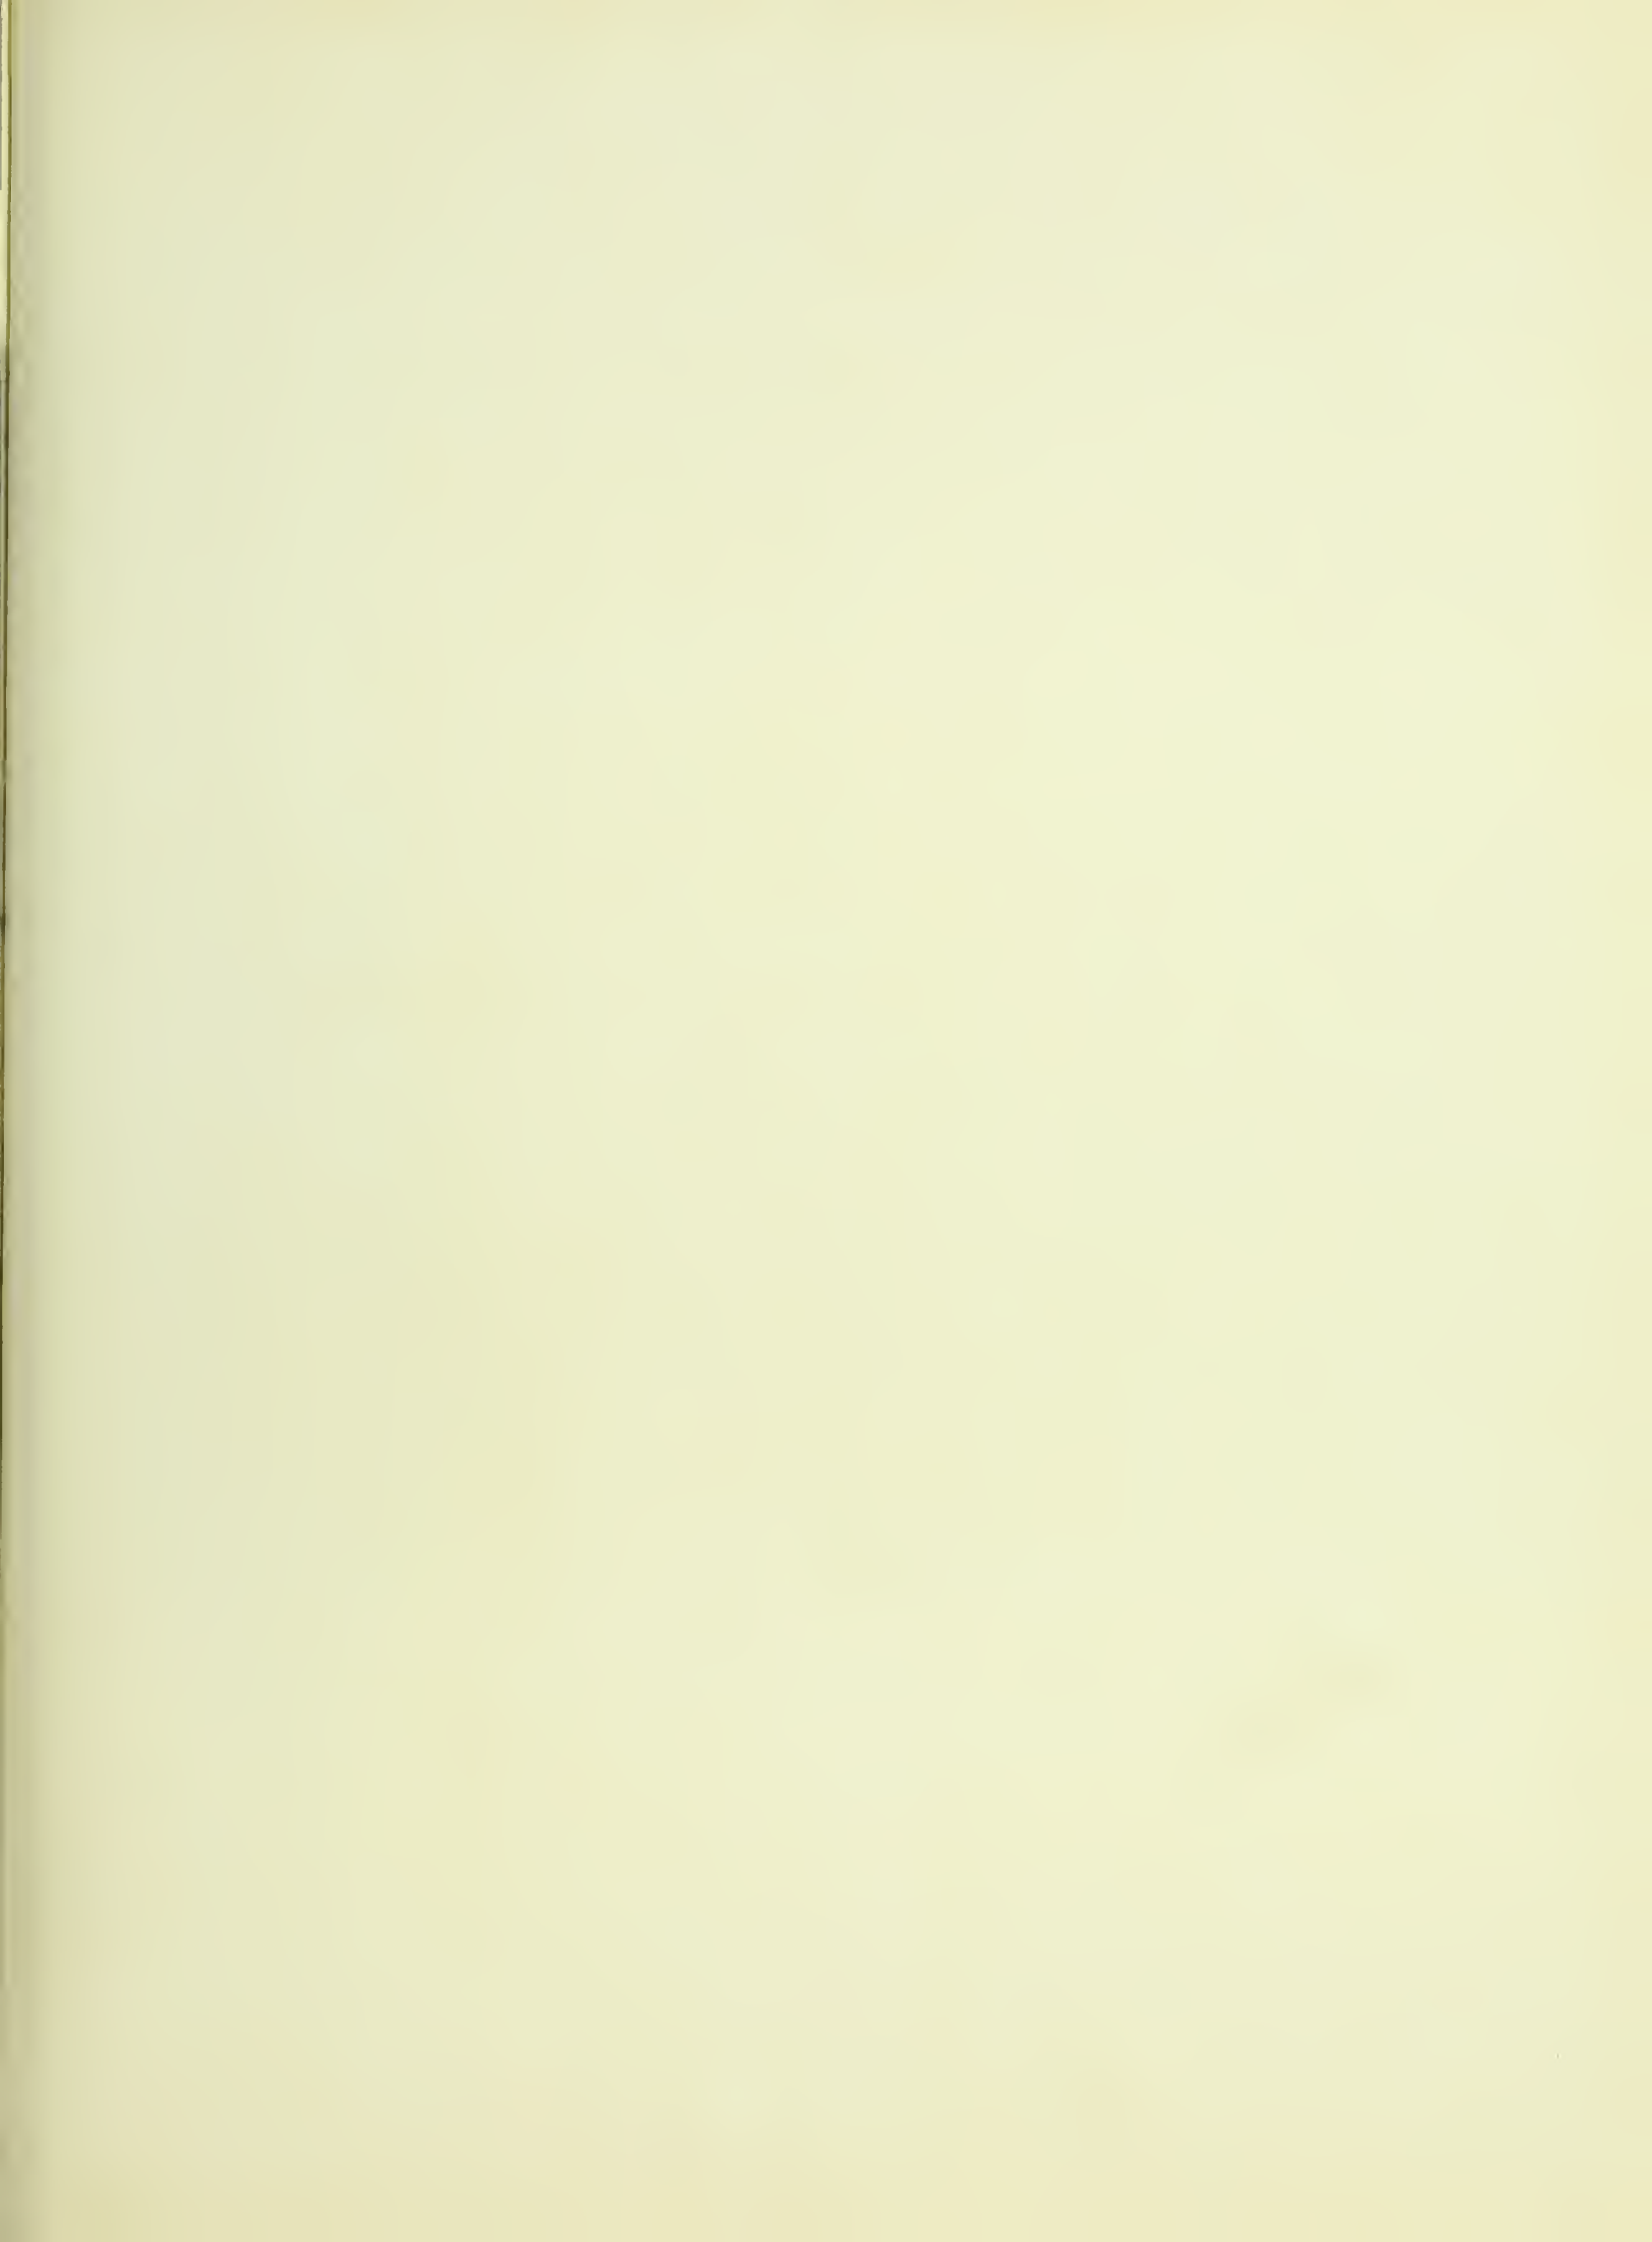

The 1969 QUADRANGLE staff has attempted to capture within this book all phases of the experience of college life. If in it, each individual can find a small part of himself, then we have succeeded.
